The Success of PBIS at SAHS: Fostering Positive Behavior and Academic Excellence

Written by Amy Huber

At St. Augustine High School (SAHS), we believe that positive behavior and academic success go hand in hand. Through the implementation of the Positive Behavioral Interventions and Supports (PBIS) system, our school has made tremendous strides in promoting a culture of respect, responsibility, and excellence. One of the standout features of this system is the Jacket Hub, a program designed to reward and encourage students for their achievements both in and outside of the classroom. Students are able to earn school money (Jacket Bucks) from staff members when they follow our "S.W.A.R.M. Traditions". These Jacket Bucks are in turn used to purchase a variety of items twice a month from the Hub. Students can also use their earnings to purchase access to Pep Rallies, School Day SJCCA performances and more.

PBIS and the Jacket Hub: Building a Total Jacket Experience

The Jacket Hub at SAHS focuses on three core principles: promoting good behavior, encouraging academic excellence, and creating the Total Jacket Experience. Over the last two years, PBIS on campus has grown into a highly effective token economy, where students earn rewards for positive behavior and outstanding academic performance. These tokens reflect the students' efforts and are a tool for reinforcing the values of SJCS and SAHS.

A key part of the Jacket Hub's success is its strong community backing. St. Johns Cares, The Players Championship, and the SAHS PTO have all played pivotal roles in supporting this program, providing resources that have allowed us to recognize and reward our students in meaningful ways. Their contributions have been essential in helping us sustain and grow the initiative. We have even been able to add Metro Diner, Leonard's Studios, and Herff Jones to a growing list of local support who have contributed to our program.

The Impact of Sponsorship and Continued Growth

As we look to the future, the Jacket Hub and PBIS program are entering Phase Two, with exciting plans to expand the scope of our efforts. To continue this growth path, we are seeking additional sponsorship and donations. This support will be crucial in helping us further enhance the student experience at SAHS, ensuring that the Jacket Hub can continue to thrive.

One exciting development in Phase Two is the creation of a new space within The Hive—a place designed for collaborative game time, mentorship, and teacher-student reward opportunities. This space will serve as a hub where students and staff can connect, fostering a sense of community while providing opportunities for positive reinforcement and team building.

Why PBIS Matters

The success of PBIS at SAHS is a testament to the power of positive reinforcement in education. By focusing on good behavior and academic excellence, the Jacket Hub has become more than just a reward system—it is a foundational part of our school's culture. Through community support and a commitment to continuous improvement, we are empowering our students to thrive both academically and personally.

As we continue to build on the successes of the past two years, we invite you to join us in supporting the future of PBIS at SAHS. Whether through sponsorship or donations, your contribution will help ensure that we can continue to grow and provide students with the tools they need to succeed.

Ways you can connect, support or give...

We are currently looking for monthly sponsors, an air hockey table, foosball table and one or two standalone arcade games. We are also looking for community volunteers who would like to help a couple times a month at our Jacket Hub shop (1st and 3rd Friday 10:30-1:30 cleared volunteers only) Scan the QR code below.

If you would like to donate through our amazon student wish list, scan the QR code to the right.

If you can help or are interested in sponsorship, please reach out to Amy Huber (amy.huber@stjohns.k12.fl.us)

Cycling Towards Success: How Trikes Support Special Needs Education

Mrs. Mackenzie Rush is a dedicated special needs teacher with over a decade of experience. Previously, she worked at a state-run group home in New Jersey, where trikes provided mobility and independence for adults with special needs. Now in her second year at St. Augustine High School, Mrs. Rush identified a similar need among her current students and partnered with the HEAL Organization. The HEAL (Helping Enrich Autistic Lives) organization advocates for autism awareness and emphasizes the importance of enhancing the lives of individuals with autism.

As many of her students approach the age when they will begin seeking employment or participating in supported employment programs, the need for reliable and affordable transportation is crucial. Trikes not only offer a cost-effective solution compared to owning and maintaining a car, but they also provide a practical and safe alternative for students who may struggle with the demands of conventional biking and driving.

The introduction of trikes into Mrs. Rush's classroom has yielded impressive results. Beyond the practical benefits of transportation, trikes have served as a motivational tool for students. Many who had never ridden a bike before now feel a newfound sense of confidence and independence. This boost in self-esteem translates into a greater willingness to engage in community activities and develop life skills that are vital for their future success.

Mrs. Smith and her team are already planning their next steps. With an iPad grant application underway and a commitment to continuously seek additional funding, they remain dedicated to advocating for their students' needs. Their work underscores a broader message: the pursuit of educational resources is an ongoing endeavor that can profoundly impact students' lives, both within the classroom and beyond.

Academy of Future Teachers

The Academy of Future Teachers is excited to welcome Mr. Timothy Leininger to our team as the new instructor for our first-year students in the "Introduction to the Teaching Profession" course.

We are proud to announce the expansion of our first-year program from one to two course sections, now accommodating approximately 50 students who are embarking on their journey with the Teaching Academy. This growth reflects our ongoing commitment to developing the next generation of educators.

Our longstanding 12th-grade internship program continues to thrive, offering our seniors valuable hands-on experience by working alongside mentor teachers in local elementary and middle schools. These students dedicate approximately six hours per week to their internships, which count towards the completion of their Career Program. We look forward to seeing the positive impact this program has on their future careers in education.

Additionally, our student organization, Florida Future Teachers of America (FFEA), will be competing in three competitions this year. The first is our in-house competition at St. Augustine High School on October 18th. Winners in each category will advance to a regional event on November 15th at The University of North Florida. The final competition will take place at the state conference in Orlando at the end of January. We look forward to seeing the amazing projects our students design and present.

Academy of Aviation and Aerospace

The Academy of Aviation and Aerospace is pleased to welcome Mr. Scott Norteman as our new secondary education instructor. Mr. Norteman brings extensive experience in aviation maintenance and holds a private pilot's license. He is passionate about helping students explore the diverse career opportunities within the aviation industry and is enthusiastic about imparting his expertise to our future pilots, equipping them with the essential skills to excel in their FAA Ground School Written Exam.

In addition, Mr. Norteman is sponsoring our afterschool Aerospace Club, where students can engage in hands-on learning with flight simulators, model rocket building, 3D printing, and the flying and coding of drones.

We continue to partner with Embry Riddle Aeronautical University to offer 5 dual-enrollment courses in Aeronautical Science, Unmanned Aircrafts, and Private Pilot. These courses count for high school and college credit, offering a savings of up to $10,000 in college tuition.

Academy of Law and Homeland Security

The Academy of Law and Homeland Security is proud to continue its strong partnership with the St. Johns County Sheriff's Office. We are excited to announce the launch of a new internship program, offering our 12th-grade students hands-on experience across various divisions within the SJSO. After completing a series of job interviews, these students will begin their internships, working two days a week starting this September.

We are also entering our second year of hosting Criminal Justice Dual-Enrollment classes in collaboration with St. Johns River State College, right here on our campus. This year, 14 of our students will graduate with a Career Certificate in Homeland Security, in addition to earning nine college credits in Criminal Justice.

Our student organization is eagerly preparing to participate in the Northeast Florida Criminal Justice Alliance competition in Orlando, FL. There, students will showcase their skills in law enforcement, academic challenges, investigations, and more. To celebrate their hard work, they will also enjoy a day at Universal Studios.

In addition to these activities, we remain committed to community involvement through volunteering at local events. We are particularly excited about our upcoming participation in the St. Augustine Christmas Parade.

THANK YOU! The SAHS PTO still has several business sponsorship opportunities. If you'd like to partner with us, please visit our website at www.thehivepto.com or email us at thehivepto@gmail.com.

The PTO does not work without the support of our amazing community and business partners. A big shout out to this year's sponsors!
